

PUTNAM COUNTY MASTER GARDENER PROGRAM

The Master Gardener Program is offered by The University of Tennessee Extension. The purpose of the program is to train and certify individuals as horticultural-educated volunteers of The University of Tennessee Extension. Volunteers work in partnership with their counties to expand the educational outreach by providing researched-based information to improve the quality of life with community home garden/landscaping.

These volunteers, known as Extension Master Gardeners, support the Extension Service by:

- Answering requests for horticultural information
- Establishing and maintaining demonstration gardens
- Working with groups in the community
- Designing and implementing community involvement projects
- Conducting training programs in the community

The Putnam County Extension Office will be accepting applications for the next Master Gardener course starting August and continuing until a class maximum of 30. Classes are held in the Putnam County Extension conference room starting January – April, meeting weekly in the evenings at 6pm. If you are interested in participating in the next Master Gardener Class, please mail the form on bottom of the page to the Extension office and you will be mailed an application form for the class.
